Dedication

With inspired minds and grateful hearts we humbly dedicate this 1966 Elbala to Mrs. Althea Prescott.

She is one whose Christian character has challenged us to better living, whose dedicated teaching has motivated our learning, and whose sincere friendship has evoked within us a spirit of warmth for God and man. Much of Mrs. Prescott will be emulated in the lives of us and other generations.

Our free enterprise system and our representative form of government can prosper only among enlightened people.

We shall uphold and promote the ideals of democracy as we strive to continue a strong educational program in the Elba City Schools. Only through such a program can we provide the knowledge, habits, attitudes, skills, and appreciations which are so necessary for successful living in a free and democratic society.

Success, real success, is measured by contribution to life.

Some men contribute fortunes to build colleges, schools, or churches. Some write great books. Some invent things men can use.

The fact that we do not live in constant fear of hunger, thirst, and the ravages of epidemic disease is due to the contribution of many men; some still alive; many past and gone.

Now if you have a neighbor who does you a favor, you naturally try to find how you can return the favor and do something for him. This is the natural reaction of self-respecting men.

Life has done you many favors. Life is your neighbor. Life--the streams of on-going life--has furnished streets that you did not build, houses that you did not build, and many more things than you can't count or even think of.

Does this make you feel inadequate? Never sell yourself short. Never underestimate your ability.

Successful men and women are those who do today's task well and also have some idea of where they are going tomorrow.

There are many things this world needs--things you can do. You must find them and make your contribution. You can!
